Process for the purification of special denatured Ethanol and there by manufacture of reducers

The SDS, procured from distilleries is refined by distillation and Percolation through

Molecular Sieves. for the removal of impurities, Moisture and odour as below:-

1500 Ltrs of SDS is charged into a Reactor, The temperature is slowly raised to 80! C. Where by the Distillate starts collecting in the receiver. The semi purified material is Filled into the HDPE Barrels. The semi refined Material is taken again for further Purification depending on the impurity levels by distillation process may be twice or thrice.

The Moisture is determined by K/F method.

And the impurity levels are tested by G.C. (outsourced at CKT, panvel).

If the required quality is not achieved, the process repeated till the SDS quality is achieved.

Finally the total moisture is removed by Percolation through molecular sieves. the purified and Dehydrated SDS as the final product A can be cleared under manufacturing

The SDS is blended with different solvents and additives to industrial consumer's suitability for end use.as product B.
